TO MERCHANTS & BUSINESS MEN

The attendance at the meeting at Albany

The Chairman made a few remarks, urging immediate completion of the Milwaukee and Beloit Road. He spoke of the manner in which the railroad enterprises of this State had been pushed forward amidst much difficulty, and with small means, and of what the roads now built have already done for the city. The business to be opened by the M. & B. R. R. to the southwest, received with great applause.

in them. THE GERMAN VOIE .- The Madison Journal, commenting on the position taken by the German voters in several recent elections, says: In the West the population, even in our cities, is largely made up of immigrants from the rural districts of the East, and the Germans from the small towns of Germany; and the two great ci-ties of the West-Chicago and St. Louis-have recently, by an emphatic majority, declared them-selves opposed to the extension of slavery. In these cities, the great mass of the German vosolves opposed to the extension of blacky. In these cities, the great mass of the German voters labored nobly against the pro-slavery Bamocracy, and to them must be sorbed no breen siderable share of the glory of these victories—The same causes should make Milwankee, hitherto the stronghold of the pro slavery party in this State, free-soil; and in the late election there we see some hopeful indications. Milwankee has a heavy German population—at least one-third of its whole population, we should judge. A great majority of them are opposed to the extension of Slavery; but they have hitherto been kept in the Hurker ranks through the force of party drill, and the bug-bears of Know-Nothingism and a prohibitory ilquor law. We believe that oine-tenths of them approve of the Republican platform and disapprove of the Democratic platform, and, were the real issues truthfully presented to them, that they would act with the platform, and, were the real issues fruthing pre-sented to them, that they would act with the Republicans. Now it is impossible for lying to prevail, permanently; these Germans read and think; they will discover the truth by and by, and the moment they do discover it they will shalke off the shackles of the infanous slavery-propagandists with whom they have been acting, and units heartly with the Republicans, in oppo-

The Court come in at 9 o'clock yesterdy morning, and upon assuming the Bouch. Judge Sanger directed that the Jury should be brought in. Shortly after, they appeared, looking somewhat care worn from their long labors. They had been out 21 hours. In answer to an inquity of the Court, as to whether they had yet agreed upon a veroict, the Foreman replied that they had not, and that "there was no chance in an agreement." Whereupon, the papers were taken from them, and they were distinsigns.

The jury stood as follows:

For Acquirran—Phillip Rassell, Foreman, Lexington; Amos Ilyde, Lowell; Joshua A.
Kingman, Reading; Ezra B. Boekwood, Ashland; John W. Spooner, Ashlund; James Staples, Cambridge; Joshua B. Gooch, Watertown;
